

Workplace Advisory Service

Press Release

Following a request by three major employers in Cambridge City we have launched an advisory service.

The nature of enquiries has focused on:

- Ergonomics and workstations
- Workings directives
- Student Sports advice
- Lifting and Manual Handling as Health and Safety
- Stress and tiredness
- The changing work environment
- Workplace environments – heavy industry, biotech, HR and pharmaceuticals

For some time we have offered informal advice to employees who visit the practice but the time is now right to formalise this service as it is has increased.

No initial charges are made but should the advice and consultation require a greater commitment in time this aspect would be discussed.

The service is free initially and if you would like more information, do telephone the practice and ask for John Lant or one of his team who provide this service telephone 01223 367661 (3 lines)
